The Candidates

This is the last in a series of informational articles by reporter Nancy Stancill on Daly City City Council candidates.

Victor Kyriakis Bill Schumacher

Victor G. Kyriakis said he has concentrated on "solutions" during the five years he's served as Daly City councilman.

"I believe I've been a very effective city councilman," the 42-year-old incumbent said. "I feel that it takes a period of time to become effective and I think I've reached my prime."

THE DALY CITY attorney is emphasizing his involvement in implementing federally funded programs in his bid for re-election to one of three council seats up for election March 7.

Although there has been considerable criticism that the city has not moved fast enough in putting together a housing rehabilitation program, Kyriakis said, "It's going to be a very successful program."

"Daly City's rehabilitation program is a functioning reality," the chairman of the city's Housing and Community Development Act Task Force Advisory Committee said.

"FORTY LOANS so far have been approved. Two homes are now under construction, three are receiving emergency repairs.

"The Daly City planning staff estimates that contractors soon will be starting construction on up to three homes a week," Kyriakis added.

Besides chairing the committee which advises on allocating major federal funding, the councilman said he has headed studies of the city's parking problems. He emphasized the council's recent action to implement preferential parking in BART-squeezed neighborhoods.

KYRIAKIS SAID he considers the William J. (Bill) Schumacher said he believes he has served Daly City best by being "a councilman who exercises independent judgment on each issue."

The councilman, who has served as mayor pro tem for two years, has been regarded somewhat as a maverick because of a number of minority votes he has registered on a variety of council issues.

IT'S A REPUTATION he hopes to capitalize on in his bid for re-election March 7 to a second four-year term.

The Schumacher campaign struck an unexpected snag in late December when the Daly City attorney was charged with a misdemeanor violation of the state's Business and Professions Code.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson charged that a Schumacher client, Michael D. D'Achille of Brisbane, has contended that Schumacher told D'Achille to surrender a duplicate driver's license at the court conclusion of a December, 1976, drunk driving conviction.

SCHUMACHER has pleaded not guilty to the charge and has noted that the judge he allegedly deceived, Judge Charles Becker, has offered to testify in his behalf.

Furthermore, Schumacher has charged that the district attorney's action is "politically motivated." The councilman said Sorenson is attempting to damage Schumacher's political career in the belief that the attorney aspires to the elected District Attorney's post.

The trial, originally set for Feb. 1, has Reported Paralyzed

Girl, 9, Shot Twice

A nine-year-old girl is partially paralyzed today after being shot twice in the garage of her uncle's home Sunday.

The girl, Siu Ching Cheng, was wounded when two oriental juveniles entered the open garage of her uncle's home at 425 John Daly Blvd. Sunday at about 1:30 p.m. and began firing for no apparent reason, police said.

Daly City Police Lt. Tom Culley said one of the bullets bounced off the girl's spine, leaving her partially paralyzed. A Mary's Help Hospital spokesman said the youth is in stable condition today, and resting comfortably.

Police said James Cheng, brother of the owner of the home, Hupku Cheng, was in the garage with his niece, Siu, when the two juveniles approached.

Cheng told police one of the youths asked if a car parked in the garage was for sale. When Cheng said it was, both youths pulled revolvers and began firing. Cheng told police he believed four shots were fired. He was not hit.

One juvenile was believed to be carrying a .38 calibre revolver, while the other carried a .22 caliber pistol.

The two suspects were last seen travelling on foot towards Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Mobil Annex Asked

The first application to annex to Daly City since the San Mateo County Local Agency Formation Commission rescinded a controversial "no piece-meal annexation" policy is expected to come before LAFCO soon.

At a Daly City Council study session Monday, the council informally agreed to sponsor the annexation request of the Mobil Oil Corporation.

The company operates a service station located at the intersection of Junipero Serra Boulevard and San Pedro Road.

The Mobil station is located in an unincorporated area served by the Broadmoor Police Protection District and the Colma Fire Protection District.

If the council votes formally Feb. 13 to sponsor the annexation, the move is expected to spark a protest from the Broadmoor Police Commission.

The commission has said it will oppose any attempt to detach from the police district, which has little tax revenue producing property as it is.

The commission is reorganizing its small police department after a year's lapse in services. The district has been policed under contracts with Daly City and the sheriff's office.

Broadmoor has been protected from detachments of small parcels for the past few years through a LAFCO policy that has

S.F. Man in Kidnap Case Bound Over

A 22-year-old San Francisco man will appear in Redwood City Superior Court Feb. 17 to answer to a charge of kidnapping a 19-year-old girl from the Daly City BART station Nov. 7.

Tommy Carl Lockhart, 22, entered a not guilty plea in Northern Judicial District Municipal Court Feb. 3, and was held to answer in Superior Court.

Lockhart is suspected of dragging the girl from the station platform and into a car in the parking lot, holding her there for two hours and then releasing her unharmed.

Police said James Cheng, brother of the owner of the home, Hupku Cheng, was in the garage with his niece, Siu, when the two juveniles approached.

Cheng told police one of the youths asked if a car parked in the garage was for sale. When Cheng said it was, both youths pulled revolvers and began firing. Cheng told police he believed four shots were fired. He was not hit.

Westmoor Parcourse Dedicated

A $7,500 parcourse dedicated Friday at Westmoor High School in Daly City includes a series of 18 exercise stations. With running, jogging or walking paths connecting the stations, the parcourse is open for the use by students and other Daly City residents. The Jefferson Union High School District contributed $4,500 and the city of Daly City gave $3,000 for installation of the course. Westmoor Vice Principal Jim Zylla said the facility will be open to residents except during school hours of 8:15 a.m.-2:30 p.m. on week days.

Broadmoor Police To Operate Again

By NANCY STANCI

Squeals of delight and spontaneous applause followed a surprise announcement at the Broadmoor Police Commission meeting Friday night.

"We've got an insurance policy," Commissioner Randy Wall said, beaming from ear to ear.

The Commission voted post-haste to accept the insurance policy that Wall received in the mail a day ago — the liability coverage that will allow the defunct Broadmoor Police Dept. to operate after a year's lapse in service.

The insurance arrangement didn't come a moment too soon. The Broadmoor Police Protection District's temporary service contract with Daly City expires Feb. 28.

That leaves a scant three weeks to get the unincorporated area's police force back together, but Wall and commissioners Wayne Johnson and Joseph Fillo told the audience of 20 that they can do it.

"I see no obstacles standing in our way," Wall said of resuming operations March 1.

The commissioner, who has been working with insurance companies since his election to the commission in November, said he heard recently that the Kensington Police District near Oakland was insured through the National Sheriff's Association.

He said he checked further and found that comprehensive liability insurance was available through the law Enforcement Insurance Co. for participating members in the Sheriff's Association. The company's address is Hamilton, Bermuda.

So there was some surprise when Wall held up a two-page insurance policy for the audience to see. There was some hugging and kissing among residents who were thrilled at the prospect of getting their small police department back.

Wall said the insurance covers "everything but the

Board Wants Delay in Use of Soundproofing Funds

JESD Teacher Contract

After 1½ years of haggling, the Jefferson Elementary School District and the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association finally have a contract — their very first.

With grins and jokes, JCTA President Garry Bieringer and the JESD trustees officially signed the document during a special meeting Monday night.

As a result, district teachers will receive a special one-year-only bonus equivalent to a 5 percent raise.

The contract also calls for a 10 percent pay hike next year, a 40-hour work week, advisory arbitration and an agreement that relieves the district of responsibility for increased costs of health insurance premiums.

The board additionally agreed to pay teachers for any financial damages which may have resulted during a mandatory five-day inservice workshop session held at the close of the 1977 school year.

Board President Alvin Schwarzbach joked, "This is the easiest part of negotiations (the signing)."

Replied Bieringer, good-naturedly, "If it's so easy, then why did it take so long?"

The board must make one more settlement with the teachers. A school holiday must be scheduled between the end of spring vacation and the end of school to conform to the contract's 180-day teaching clause.

Teachers agreed to give the board time to check with the schools before naming a date.

In a separate matter, the board will seek an extension from the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors on the use of funds to soundproof Colma Elementary School.

The county, contributing $90,000 as part of an out-of-court settlement over noise problems at the school, is requiring the district use the funds by the end of this year.

However, after hearing a report from the project architect, John Coyle of Reed and Torics Associates, and the sound consultants, Fitzroy and Dobbs, the school board decided it may need more time to make the repairs.

The district faces a $300,000 bill for soundproofing Colma Elementary and Colma Intermediate schools. Of that sum, $270,000 will have to come from the bond building fund if Daly City, another party to the suit, does not agree to a settlement.

A final decision on this matter will be made at the Feb. 15 board meeting.

Funds Up for Grabs

Daly City's City Council

Monday put $90,000 in federal manpower funding up for grabs and invited two rival day-care operations to make a pitch for it Feb. 13.

However, the council members expressed strong reservations about further financial support of daycare and indicated that it also will consider giving the $90,000 left from a large

Comprehensive Employment Training Act grant to four other agencies.

Representatives from both the Daly City Community for Children's Services and the Bayshore

Baptist Church's planned

day-care operation

addressed the council at its study session Monday.

The two day-care organizations are regarded as competitive because they are the only two non-profit, child care agencies to request city funds.

In addition, the primary volunteer for the Bayshore

Baptist effort, the former

DCCCS center director,

Anne Cooper, Mrs. Cooper's firing last spring from the DCCCS for "insubordination" sparked a controversy that resulted in the city and San Mateo County stopping funding.

The two-year-old DCCCS has received $160,000 in federally based funding from Daly City, but its last request in November 1976

was denied.

At that time, the council said it did not favor operations funding of day care.

At the same time, it authorized a grant of $6,000

major problem as one of matching services with revenues.

"Keeping the cost of government as low as possible, while keeping the services at an acceptable level is a responsibility," he said.

"It is essential to broaden the tax base by commercial development, by creating a climate that is favorable for such development," he added.

Kyriakis said he expects the commercial tax base to get a boost with the "shifting into high gear" of the Mission Street-Junipero Serra Boulevard redevelopment project.

HOWEVER, he emphasized that redevelopment "has to be sensitive to existing businesses. I would oppose redevelopment that would be difficult for the businesses to participate, or which would adversely affect the surrounding neighborhoods."

Kyriakis first was appointed to council to fill the unexpired term of now-Assemblyman Louis Papan (D-Daly City). He won his first council election in 1974. The San Francisco native has lived in Daly City since 1961. He resides at 80 Cliffside Drive.

Kyriakis said he favored the recent council decision to approve construction of a garbage transfer station at Mussel Rock to serve Daly City residents only.

"IN THE LONG RUN" it will be more beneficial to the city to have control over the station through its scavenger company, rather than allowing another city's scavenger company to dictate rates at the San Francisco transfer station," he said.

Kyriakis said he believes that election of the mayor among the council "gives a greater opportunity for more councilmen to serve as mayor."

However, he said that election of the mayor by voters, as was approved by San Bruno residents, may be something to study "down the line."

ON THE QUESTION of whether Daly City should expand its borders to include either the Broadmoor-unincorporated Colma area or the Crocker Industrial Park area, Kyriakis said "It's never been something I've felt essential to our well-being, nor have I ruled it out. It really hasn't come before council."

Students Testing Recipes for Nation

By TERRY DAVENPORT

Pizza, tacos and pumpkin pudding may be food of the future served in school cafeterias.

Those are some of the recipes that fourth, fifth and sixth graders at two schools in the Laguna Salada Union School District are being asked to test for the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Laguna Salada and the Monterey School District are the only school districts in California asked to rate the recipes. Each is testing eight dishes.

So far, Laguna Salada students have given high marks to turkey casserole, pizza and beef tacos. If the recipes pass other tests, the USDA will distribute them to school districts throughout the nation.

Each recipe meets the strict "Type A" school lunch requirements that districts must follow to receive federal funding for lunch programs. They are offered as a convenience for districts attempting to meet those standards.

Testing recipes takes time. The ones students currently are rating won't be distributed to other school districts until 1980.

Enid Brand, food supervisor for the Laguna Salada district, said students at Westview and Crespi schools are asked to answer four questions after they sample each recipe.

center has an absolute need for the funding. It is in dire straits financially."

The center, currently serving 15 children, has a maximum funding level of $75,720 from state sources.

When Letsinger pointed out that a letter from the DCCCS last spring declined CETA aid that tentatively had been earmarked for the center, Warren said, "I really can't answer all of those questions from the past."

While the students are eating, Mrs. Brand watches their reactions and makes notes on a monitoring form. She also checks how much of the item is left over before the plates are scraped.

Sentiment among board members is split on the question of district elections, which has been labeled Proposition A on the ballot. Board Chairman Edward Bacciocco and Supervisor Fred Lyon support the measure. Board members John Ward, James Fitzgerald and William Royer oppose it.

Prop. Rep. Leo J. Ryan, D-San Mateo, charged today that Sen. S.I. Hayakawa, R-Calif., has "acted as an errand boy for the redwood timber companies and tried to get excessive profits for those companies at public expense."

He cited Hayakawa's attempt to amend S1976, the bill which would expand Redwood National Park in Northern California.

Hayakawa's amendment gave jurisdiction of timber claim compensation disputes to the U.S. Court of Claims instead of the U.S. District Court. The U.S. District Court was defeated in the Senate by a vote of 36-57.

been postponed until April 26.

Schumacher said he wanted to conclude the matter before March 7 elections, but was advised by his attorney to seek further time to investigate D'Achille's prior conviction record. The Brisbane man's record allegedly includes matters relating to driver's license misrepresentation, Schumacher charged.

In any event, the councilman said he does not believe that the court matter "will hurt my chances for re-election." Schumacher was a 1974 front-runner.

Schumacher, who has lived in Daly City since 1959, is a San Francisco native.

He served as a Daly City police officer before graduating from the Hastings College of Law in San Francisco and starting a Daly City law practice.

The councilman served as a three-year trustee of the Jefferson Elementary School District before his 1974 election to the council. He lives at 160 Werner Ave.

Schumacher said he believes Daly City's greatest problem is crime and he said council's support of the Anti-Crime League and the juvenile diversion program (Neighborhood Family Project) has been a step toward solutions.

HE SAID one of his major goals is "to beef up the Daly City Police Department in the areas of juvenile and detective work."

Schumacher has criticized city staff in the past for not moving quickly enough in the new housing rehabilitation program, but said "preliminary" work appears to be going better.

The mayor pro tem said the council "may have to take a second look at Marks-Forn (state bonding program for rehabilitation projects) if federal funding slows down."

"THE CITY is dealing with real economic forces," he said of commercial redevelopment's pace.

Schumacher has supported a citizens advisory committee on garbage and other utility rates and said "There's a lot of public mistrust over council's dealings with the Daly City Scavenger Co. I don't know why the council majority has balked at getting public input with a citizens committee."

Schumacher said he believes the unincorporated Broadmoor area will annex to Daly City in the future, but "right now it is an emotional issue. The Broadmoor people are not looking at it logically."

Officials of the County Central Democratic Committee, the Coalition for Economic Democracy and the Committee for District Elections urged the board to place the measure on the November General Election ballot. They argued that more voters turn out for the general than the primary election.

Richard Silver, chairman of the Central Committee, asserted that the issue of district elections is so great that it demands the scrutiny of as many voters as possible.

Supervisors, however, concurred that the Jarvis-Gann property tax initiative would likely bring more than the normal number of voters to the polls in June. And they agreed that they did not want the district election issue to be lumped among a variety of other charter amendments which are likely to appear on the November ballot.

Plan Seen as Another Body Blow to Industry

By JOHN HUBBARD
Business Editor

Adoption of the tough regional environmental management plan proposed by the staff of the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) would deal another body blow to industry here.

That was the charge leveled by William C. Hern, executive director of Peninsula Manufacturers Association, at a San Mateo meeting during which approximately 100 persons — most of them San Mateo County business and labor leaders — discussed the controversial plan, now in draft form.

"This plan," said Hern, "is supposed to be the creature of national legislation — legislation which the Environmental Protection Agency is supposed to implement nationwide, on an even basis. That will be the day. They talk about that, but it's not happening."

Instead, said Hern, the Bay Area already has gone further in setting up regulations dealing with water and air quality than many other parts of the country, and the ABAG staff's plan would greatly broaden that gap.

"We've got plants here that are the same type, doing the same thing as plants elsewhere in America," said Hern. "But they're not having the same experience. The plants here are operating at a disadvantage, because of all the controls."

"It's a competitive world, and we are competing. However, we want to do that equally and fairly, not as we're required to compete now — or would be even more so in the future if this plan is approved."

Hern said his statement reflects one of the major concerns set forth in a new Manufacturers Association position paper dealing with the draft plan; that paper is now being distributed to some 600 local government officials and other decision-makers throughout the Peninsula.

He spoke at Royal Coach Motor Inn, following a panel presentation on the basic outlines of the plan. The meeting was a general membership session of the San Mateo County Development Association.

At least two of the four panelists — all of them members of ABAG's environmental management plan task force, which is now reviewing the staff draft — joined in urging business and industry leaders to come forth with specific recommendations for amending the provisions while there is still time. (After a series of interim steps, final hearing and action on the plan are scheduled by ABAG for April.)

"City and county officials," said consulting engineer Paul O. Reimer, "are working on detailed amendment proposals. But the business sector has not been heard from in this respect. It is my hope that a specific business position will be advanced."

"I am bothered by the relative silence of the industrial community," said Angelo Siracusa, executive director of the Bay Area Council. He indicated that he, too, was talking in terms of particulars of the plan, not generalized statements of opposition.

"The threat is that if we don't do it (adopt a regional plan of environmental controls), the feds will do it to us," said Siracusa. "But I believe we ought to turn that way of thinking around; people here have to act or abdicate their local responsibilities. This really is an opportunity for us, on our own initiative, to sensibly balance Bay Area economic and social considerations."

The draft plan has four major components — water quality, water supply, air quality and solid waste management.

Reimer, Siracusa and the other panelists — Fred L. Lyon, San Mateo County supervisor, and William H. Hardwick, Belmont city councilman — were in agreement that the bigger outriders are in connection with the air quality component.

Among other things, according to Lyon, air quality controls would require abandoning oil-based paints, tightening company air pollution and automobile emission standards, implementing higher bridge tolls and possibly establishing parking taxes to discourage auto use, as well as mandating land use restrictions to encourage compact growth and reduce urban sprawl in order to decrease the need for long-distance car commuting.

Much of the focus of local governmental officials, the panelists said, has been on the land use issue because it would "take away a great degree of control from local governments."

However, Siracusa urged that the matter of air pollution standards not be overlooked in the furor over land use proposals.

"The costs will be too high if we start losing industry or the ability to attract industry because of the degree of air pollution controls affecting industrial plants," he said. "The Bay Area Council's stance is that it would be better to go a little slower in that regard than the clean air purists would like."

He pointed out that while the ABAG staff draft plan calls for using the ultimate means of "best available control technology" for combatting air pollution from industry, a one-step-down approach — termed "reasonably available control technology" — would be enough to meet the federal standards in all but extremely rare conditions, while at the same time being less restrictive and less costly.

'Guard' Wins a 2nd Place

The Conquistadors Color Guard of South San Francisco took second place honors in the first Winter Guard International drill competition at Garden Grove, Jan. 28-29.

The local unit scored 80.93 Saturday night and 82.7 Sunday afternoon at Bolsa Grande High School where 17 of the best color guards in the Western states competed in precision marching drill. It was outscored only by the Seattle Imperials, the 1977 international champions.

The Conquistadors topped such nationally-contending groups as the Anaheim Kingsmen, Whittier Cavaliers and Concord Shamrocks.

The color guard is part of the Conquistadors Drum and Bugle Corps, an independent youth organization co-sponsored by VFW Post 4103 and the South San Francisco Recreation Dept.

SSF Adds To Italian Heritage

South San Francisco, strong in its Italian heritage, has adopted a sister city: Lucca, Italy.

And with that adoption, the city may be able to help persuade San Mateo County to be the first county in the nation to adopt a sister.

Delegates from South San Francisco and the county will travel to Italy — at their own expense — this summer to visit the new sister.

Dan V. Casentini, a county civil service commissioner, said that if the county adopts a city it will be the first such government agency to do so in the United States.

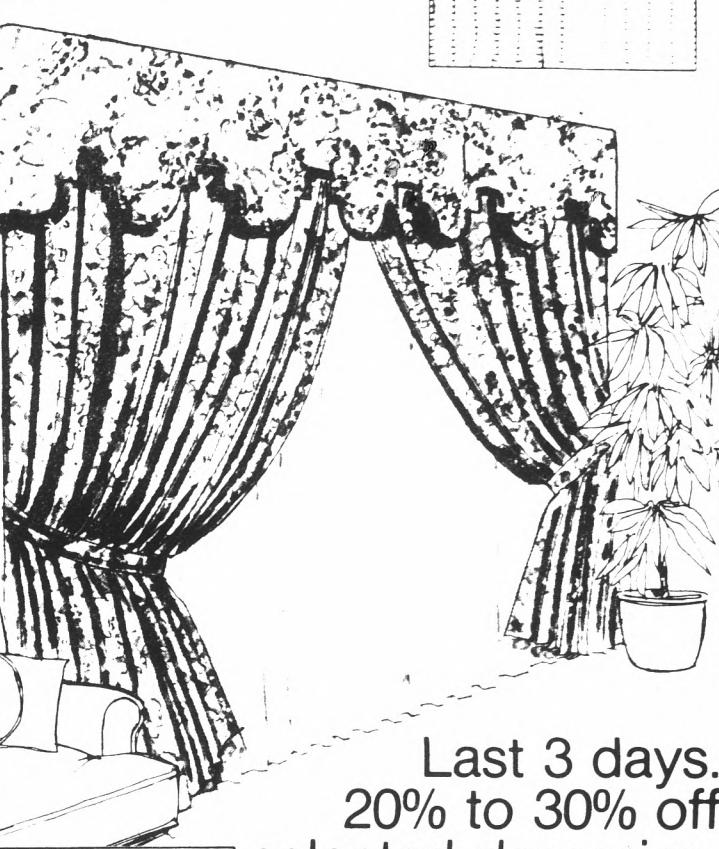

Casentini said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed a similar plan but it was not executed.

South San Francisco decided on the adoption of Lucca because the North County city continues to have many cultural, civic and educational organizations of Italian origin.

A resolution approved by the council states the adoption will "promote a greater understanding and unity among our citizens and sponsor activities towards these ends."

Laguna Teachers Outline Contract

Highlights of the 1978-79 contract proposal submitted by non-management certificated employees of the Laguna Salada Union School District are described in the district's latest newsletter, "Report Card."

The proposal was drawn up by teachers, special teachers, counselors, psychologists and librarians for consideration by the board of trustees.

A public hearing will be held at the next board meeting, Feb. 16 at 8 p.m. at Vallemar School to allow citizens to comment on the proposed contract.

Among the changes proposed:

- Pay raises would match the cost-of-living increase of either the Bay Area Consumer Price Index increase or the average for San Mateo County school district salaries. The cost to reach the county average would be $371,228.

- The president or other designated members of the teachers' organization, the Laguna Salada Educational Association, would be granted 20 days per year for business con-

- Class size must be limited to 25 pupils per teacher, with children who have special problems counted as more than one student each.

- For example, an emotionally disturbed child would count as 2.5 children.

Current class maximums are 31 pupils in kindergarten through third grade, 34 in fourth through eighth grade, 12 for educationally handicapped and 15 for educable mentally retarded, with no weighted factors.

- All personnel would receive a preparation period and a relief period daily during the work day. Teachers now have different preparation allowances and no relief periods except for lunch and recesses.

- Multi-Purpose Center — $210,000, slightly less than the requested $323,000 requested.

- Hillside Park — $80,000, as requested.

- Lincoln Park — $80,000, as requested.

- Bayshore Park — $15,000, as requested.

- John Daly Area Tot Lot — $40,000, less than the $100,000 requested.

The committee denied entirely requests for funding redevelopment area parking lots at $103,000, a $10,000 weatherization project, a $5,000 Crocker neighborhood study, a $10,000 proposal for starting a Crocker area athletic league, and a $2,500 request for funding a senior citizens project.

- Traveling teachers would count as 2.5 children.

- Anti-Crime League — $6,000, a drop from the request of $10,700.

- Rehabilitation — $250,000, as requested.

- Multi-Purpose Center — $210,000, slightly less than the requested $323,000 requested.

Funding Emerges From Arguments

Lengthy and loud arguments preceded a decision by the Citizens Advisory Committee for the General Plan on its recommendations to the Daly City City Council for expenditures of $781,000 in federal funds.

The meeting, late last week, which lasted 5½ hours, ended in recommendations on how the city should allocate Housing and Community Development Act funds for 1978-79.

About 17 members of the committee and a number of residents argued about the amount of funding that should be given to the city's housing rehabilitation program, proposed multi-purpose center, park development and to the Anti-Crime League of Daly City.

The committee's recommendations included the following:

SSF City Clerk Will Retire

Arthur Rodondi announced Wednesday night he will retire as city clerk of South San Francisco, a post he has held for the past 27 years.

Rodondi, 62, has spent 37 years with the city. His retirement will be effective June 5, although his term of office does not expire until March 1980.

A decision has not been made yet whether a new city clerk will be appointed or an election held to fill the vacancy.

Councilmen were rocked with the announcement during a routine meeting Wednesday.

Rodondi put his reasons for retiring simply: "It's time for me to go fishing."

Councilmen, speechless for a moment, finally began to comment when Mayor Emanuel Damonte said, "It has taken us all by surprise. Everyone knows what a good job you have done."

Rodondi's announcement, made in writing, was placed on the city's agenda.

Hotel Bandit Suspect Jailed

Burlingame police early today arrested a man who they said matches the description of a robber responsible for more than a dozen hold-ups and beatings of San Mateo county hotel customers during the past four months.

Arrested on charges of impersonating a police officer, possessing a firearm although a parolee, and possessing stolen property, was Paul Edward Johnson, 33, 420 91st St., Daly City.

Johnson was arrested by Officer Jack Van Etten, who was driving past the Hyatt House Hotel when a radio alarm was given regarding an attempted robbery of a hotel guest.

Van Etten arrested Johnson in the nearby Tia Maria parking lot. He was backed up by officers from Millbrae and Burlingame.

Sgt. Eric Haseleu said Johnson matches the description of a man who has robbed hotel guests in "14 or more" crimes from South San Francisco to Redwood City since November. The robber posed each time as a police officer.

The charge of possessing stolen property, he said, relates to a Wyoming special deputy badge connected with association affairs.

The teachers' work year will be 175 days. In 1977-78, 179 work days are required for teachers. The minimum number of days allowed for teaching pupils in California is 175.

Class size must be limited to 25 pupils per teacher, with children who have special problems counted as more than one student each.

For example, an emotionally disturbed child would count as 2.5 children.

Current class maximums are 31 pupils in kindergarten through third grade, 34 in fourth through eighth grade, 12 for educationally handicapped and 15 for educable mentally retarded, with no weighted factors.

Horse Show in March

The 32nd annual Junior Grand National Livestock Exposition, Rodeo and Horse Show, a show designed strictly for young people, has been scheduled March 17 to 29 at the San Francisco Cow Palace, Jr. Grand National Manager Darrel Chapman has announced.

The Livestock Exposition, featuring 2,000 exhibitors, will be from March 17 to 21, with the Junior Rodeo March 18 and 19 and the Horse Show March 23 to 29. Deadline for entering the Livestock Exposition is Feb. 9. Horse Show entries close March 3.

"The Junior Grand National is the only all-inclusive youth-oriented show in the nation," said Chapman, "and we lavish as much care on our Junior Show as we do for the Grand National in the fall."

The Livestock Exposition is open to all 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members. It includes classes for market steers, swine and sheep, as well as dairy show and a goat show. Also scheduled is a breeding show for heifers and ewes open to anyone between 9 and 19 owning their own animal.

The Junior Rodeo will feature young riders and ropers from all over in the country who compete in the California High School Championships.

The Horse Show, open to young people 17 and under, is the largest junior horse show on the Pacific Coast and one of the most prestigious in the country. One hundred different classes are scheduled in the Western and English divisions. Allen Ross of Santa Bar-

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

If you plan to shop or park on Mission Street in the Daly City area, there is something new that should catch your eye. If it doesn't, you may be in for a traffic citation. After two years of preliminary research to determine the feasibility of restricted parking signs, the signs are being placed along Mission Street to make street sweeping more effective. Pictured is Bud Calvert, Daly City Street Division, placing the first restricted parking sign. Furthering the efforts of the Mission merchants to control litter in their area, the restricted parking signs are the result of the Merchant Association's efforts to work with Daly City Clean Community Committee in finding new ways to control increasing litter.

Samuel Chandler

Life is better in Seattle and San Jose than in San Francisco. But better in San Francisco than in Los Angeles. Stockton is the only middle-size city in California to rate in the top 10 "best cities" while Eugene, Ore., is the best place in the United States.

Thinking of the American who is forever looking for a new experience, greater opportunity, a chance to start again, New West magazine (December 5, 1977) chose 32 cities of the West — cities that for one reason or another have something to commend them to the periodical's readers. From these they selected "the best cities in the West."

IN THE WORDS of the editors, "We've used tough, selective criteria to tell how well each of these cities delivers the goods of life — one that is productive, profitable, safe, healthy, affordable. Our study, eight months in the making, was conducted with the guidance of Development Alternatives Inc., a Washington, D.C., research firm doing pioneer work in measuring the quality of American life."

The surveyors started with a list of all the cities in 11 states — California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana — and ultimately narrowed it to three groups: 10 cities with populations of more than 300,000; 10 cities with populations between 75,000 and 300,000; and 12 cities between 25,000 and 75,000. Within each group the editors compared and ranked the cities, utilizing hundreds of data-gathering sources. Each city was rated in a range of categories — each category consisting of "quality of life" indicators.

Seattle rated highest among the big cities, with San Jose second and San Francisco third. Los Angeles was seventh behind the top three plus Portland, San Diego and Denver. Long Beach came in eighth, Oakland ninth, with Phoenix in last place.

THE EDITORS found that Seattle lays claim to the title of the West's — and perhaps the nation's — most livable city. Seattle's title stems from the number of suburbanites who are moving back to the big city and bringing with them "new values and lifestyles that place a premium on the social life and cultural advantages that only cities can provide." And, perhaps most important of all, by what the city has done in behalf of the good life.

Of the mid-sized cities, Stockton rated as seventh behind Eugene, Boulder, Salem, Reno, Salt Lake City and Albuquerque. Strange as it may seem, both of Nevada's gambling capitals — Reno and Las Vegas — rate in the top 10 of the hundreds of middle-sized cities in the West.

Reno is the most affluent city in its class, with Las Vegas second and Salt Lake City third. Eugene has the best economic racial balance of the top 10 mid-sized cities while Salt Lake City has the worst. Stockton's poverty rating is next to last while the housing it offers is the best in the West. Strange as it may seem, neither of Nevada's gambling capitals captured the top spot as a good place for leisure time facilities. The honors went to Salt Lake City, with Stockton coming in fourth behind Reno and Las Vegas.

OF ALL THE CITIES in the 25,000 to 75,000 category, Monterey came in first. To illustrate the surveyors' reasons for making this choice, the editors write "Air so fresh it is fragrant, so silky it goes down the throat like wine. Downtown streets bordered by plazas. Classical music piped to pedestrians. Urban renewal that blends new into old. A cleanliness to match its windswept skies. This is Monterey, California."

The other California cities in the top 10 of the 25,000-plus class are Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Palm Springs and Napa. The surveyors looked at the cities in this population class to see if poverty is in check or if it is decaying the city. They found it to be a problem for many cities.

They found that only three of the largest population group of cities experienced population growth. They learned that nine of the mid-sized group grew from 2 to 28 per cent. All of the smaller cities grew from 3 to 37 per cent.

New West's article regarding its best city survey was written by Leonard Gross and photographed by Paul Fusco. Gross writes "Before you call your realtor, there are some things you ought to know about how to pick a city — a city that not only rates high for you. Our first advisory is that you ponder carefully the population trends underway in the United States and how those trends could affect the city of your choice" — and you.

$14,000 Worth of Cameras Gone

Two cases of cameras valued at $14,000 were taken from a cargo dock of Japan Airlines sometime since last Thursday when they arrived from Japan. Takashik Kobayashi, 48, of Belmont, cargo traffic manager for the airline, reported to sheriff's deputies Wednesday afternoon.

According to Kobayashi, the theft of the cases, each containing 28 Nikon Model F-2 cameras, was discovered when a weekly inventory was taken of the Japan Airlines storage facility, located at the south end of the TWA cargo building. He told Sheriff's Deputy Les Caldwell there is a slight possibility the cameras may have been misshipped.

Romano's Specials Valentine Treats

Have a heart, take your sweetheart to ROMANO'S Italian and Seafood restaurant in Rockaway Beach. ENRICO ROMANO offers nine specialties of the house, including two outstanding casserole dishes, Crab à la Mornay and Crab Newburg, plus much more to please your Valentine. PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower, is a popular pre-theater dinner stop for those attending stage shows at the nearby Curran and Gary. With its luxurious setting, superb Pay-By-Gram steaks and impeccable service, dinner at the Steakery is always a memorable beginning to an exciting evening "on the town." ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB in San Francisco is a discovery for lovers of prime ribs of beef. Three different cuts are offered. The $8.95 price includes soup or salad, Yorkshire pudding and two fresh vegetables. THE WIDOW, on Taylor near Post in San Francisco, is famous for traditional Mexican cuisine served in a happily appointed, friendly environment. Strolling troubadour TOMAS RIVERA entertains dinner guests Thursday and Friday evenings and makes every night seem like a fiesta.

LEHR'S GREENHOUSE in San Francisco is the perfect place to entertain out-of-town guests. They'll love the incredibly beautiful garden in full bloom, the superb continental cuisine and the attentive service. And Lehr's moderate prices are bound to make a hit with your wallet. A three-egg omelette topped with a Spanish sauce is one of the special egg dishes featured at LA PINATA in downtown Burlingame. Served with refried beans, Mexican rice, salad and corn tortillas. Open seven days a week. MEL CICERO, co-owner of the BAYHILL LOUNGE, San Bruno, is listening to suggestions from patrons for updating the menu. If you feel you have some good ideas to offer, pass them along. YOLANDA'S restaurant, located in a far corner of the San Francisco Produce Market, is almost hidden by semi-trucks and crates of fresh vegetables and fruit. But the effort to find it is well worth a visit. Special-priced dinners (served Monday through Thursday from 5 to 9 p.m.), weekend family-style dinners and plenty of free parking are bonuses that add up.

Finocchio's Now In Full Swing

FINOCCHIO'S, San Francisco's world renowned night spot in North Beach, is in full swing following their brief vacation. The talented cast always gives great performances. The gorgeous EVE-ETTES entertain in revues of Can-Can, Chinese Fantasy, Old-Fashioned Girls, Rock and Roll and many other rollicking routines. The entertainers sing, dance and joke their way into the hearts of countless visitors to the club. Open nightly, except Mondays and Thursdays. NICK and LORRAINE GUST and their son CHUCK offer something for everyone on the menu at their recently-expanded NICK'S restaurant-lounge in Rockaway Beach. They suggest an Open Face New York Steak Sandwich for a "snack," a Combination Seafood Plate (prawns, scallops, abalone and sole) for a "gourmet's delight," and Frog Legs French fried and served with tartar sauce or butter for a "taste thrill." And that is only the beginning.

365 days a year means that with this kind of odds each and everyone should have dined at least once at SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S in Redwood City. One visit is all it takes to make you a steady diner here. From the moment you step into the foyer, the hospitality red carpet treatment begins. Your congenial hosts, HELEN and RICHARD, and the well-trained waitresses are ever attentive and deem it a pleasure to be of service during your dining visit. The menu offers a varied selection of red meat, seafood and fowl. Ample free parking only a few steps from the entrance. Reservations are suggested. INDEED is the new group playing the Tuesday-through-Saturday night sounds at PEABODY'S, Burlingame Plaza. Taking the bandstand on Sunday and Monday nights is DAYBREAKER MAGIC. Real estate broker David Lince, a member of the Truckee Lions Club, and his charming wife celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary at VINCE'S ITALIAN and SEAFOOD restaurant with a group of friends. WILLIAM McKENNA's iano bar sing-alongs are Tuesday-through-Saturday funfests at BEARDSLEY'S in Burlingame. A native San Franciscan, McKenna first appeared locally during the early 30's as a child singer with Red Nichols and his Five Pennies.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

A sunny addition to a brunch or afternoon dessert, this cheery compote can be made in minutes. For the busy hostess Pear Wine Compote will be a favorite menu addition.

Simply by opening a can of Bartlett pear halves and a can of pineapple chunks, then combining them with sections of oranges and melon balls, your menu is almost prepared. Add a sprinkling of orange peel and top with a wine and pear syrup mixture for a compote what will satisfy all. Serve with hot croissants for brunch or dainty cookies for dessert fare.

PEAR WINE COMPOTE
1 can (16 ounces) Bartlett pear halves
1 can (8 ounces) pineapple chunks
2 oranges
1 cup fresh or frozen melon balls
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
3/4 cup dry white wine.

Drain the 16 ounces pears, reserving one-half cup pear syrup. Drain the eight ounces pineapple chunks. Combine pear halves and pineapple chunks in large bowl. Peel two oranges and separate into sections. Add to pear mixture along with one cup melon balls and two teaspoons grated orange peel. Add three-fourths cup wine to reserved half cup pear syrup and pour over fruit mixture. Chill.

Makes four servings.

Emergency Psychiatric Services Take to the Road

A new round-the-clock emergency response service that will bring psychiatric skills to people in crisis in San Mateo County was inaugurated Feb. 1.

"We'll be responding to police calls and calls from residential home operators, for example, to provide home intervention and avoid hospitalization," Dr. Mike Rankin, Chief of the county's mental health services, explained.

The new mobile crisis team consists of seven licensed psychiatric technicians supervised by two psychiatric nurse specialists who will back up the on-duty emergency room psychiatrist at several locations in the county.

At the outset, these locations include Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame, Chope Community Hospital in San Mateo and the regional mental health centers in North County and South County, according to Dr. Frank Pritchard, chief of psychiatry at Chope, who is the project director.

"Members of the crisis team have had several years of training working with psychiatric patients and are experienced at dealing with developing crisis situations," Rankin said.

When not on mobile crisis calls, the team will assist in the emergency rooms with crisis intervention and will also work in the psychiatric ward and throughout the hospital, Pritchard pointed out.

"The mobile crisis unit will dovetail with our regional crisis teams and will be a night and weekend expansion of their services, with full follow-up and continuity of care," Pritchard stressed.

Millbrae Trustees Recall Move

By TERRY DAVENPORT

A group of Millbrae parents is determined to recall two, and possibly three, trustees of the Millbrae School District because of how trustees decided to reorganize the district this week.

The parents, all from the Bayside Manor district, are upset that their children will be bused across town to Meadows School.

Their children currently attend Chadbourne School close to their homes. Chadbourne is one of three schools that trustees voted to close before autumn.

Anne Newell said the group plans to circulate petitions to recall Trustee Gerald Poppers and at least one other board member, possibly two.

"We haven't definitely decided who yet," she remarked Thursday.

She explained that she began forming the group Tuesday and is gathering more members daily. She counted 16 members on Thursday.

This morning, Mrs. Newell said parents from other Millbrae schools have agreed to join in the recall attempt.

Poppers was singled out, she said, because "he broke a promise to us. He promised us at the last meeting that he would send kids to the closest schools. Then he turned around. We feel somebody put pressure on him."

Poppers commented Thursday. "I didn't make any promises. I said that I would do everything that I can to look out for their interests, along with the rest of the public's."

Poppers said it was true that he initially favored a different plan for redistributing children.

"On paper, it looked pretty good, but after due consideration . . . I came to the conclusion that it was not as workable as it looked."

He added, "I'm as concerned about the Bayside Manor children as I am about all of the community and I am not happy with those children going all the way to Meadows School. I would be happier if there was a way we could send them to Green Hills School, but the way it's working out, it just doesn't look feasible."

Poppers explained that busing some Bayside Manor children to Green Hills School would mean that children already attending Green Hills would have to be bused elsewhere.

Mrs. Newell objected. "Our children will have to get to the bus at 7:15 a.m. That means getting them up at 6 a.m. Then they ride 40 to 45 minutes until they get to school. All our kids from this area could walk to Spring Valley School . . . but people don't want to disrupt Spring Valley."

She noted, "People down here feel it's discrimination. I understand some parents from Spring Valley don't want the kids from Bayside Manor to go to their school."

Planned Parenthood

A group of Millbrae parents is determined to recall two, and possibly three, trustees of the Millbrae School District because of how trustees decided to reorganize the district this week.

Mrs. Ramos said her child catches a bus now at 8:15 a.m. and rides for 20 to 25 minutes, arriving at Chadbourne 15 to 20 minutes before school starts.

Assistant Superintendent Theodore Duncan declared that the bus schedules discussed at recent school board meetings probably would not be the final ones.

"The material I gave to the board represents the most pessimistic routes," he said.

Duncan remarked that children from the Bayside Manor area would be riding buses no more than 12 to 15 minutes.

"But they may have to leave 40 minutes before school starts, then get there 25 to 30 minutes early," he added.

Duncan said the Millbrae City Council's support of school crossing guards near busy intersections means that fewer children will have to be bused. He intends to draw up new routes with shorter bus runs.

"With crossing guards, it will make it a lot easier. It will make a very compact school district. Busing routes won't deviate that much from this year," he commented.

Donna Ravaglia, president of the Spring Valley School Parent-Teachers Association, said she thinks she knows where Bayside Manor parents got the idea that Spring Valley parents don't want their children.

"Spring Valley parents were doing a lot of phoning last week. What we were phoning for was to enable all students presently going to Spring Valley to continue going there," she said, noting that parents had deluged trustees and district personnel with calls.

The BLAT award was presented for the film because the film "is not only sound from the point of view of content and technique, but, even more importantly, (is) one which enables the specified audience to attain the stated educational objectives."

Planned Parenthood also has produced another educational film, "The Ins and Outs of the Diaphragm." Both films are distributed nationally by Perennial Education, Inc. of Northfield, Ill. and are available both to patients of Planned Parenthood and to community organizations wishing educational programs on either subject.

Planned Parenthood clinics are at 2211 Palm Ave., San Mateo; 90 Birch St., Redwood City; and 75 Aurora Vista, Pacifica.

6,717,578 Lines of Classified Advertising

430,611 Classified Ads

These are the record figures The Times Advertising Department achieved during 1977. More lines of Classified Advertising and more Classified Ads than any previous year in the 88-year history of The Times.

The reason these records were established in 1977 is simple, more and more people are learning that classified advertising really works. It worked for a record number of people last year and it can work for you this year. Just give us a call, we'll show you how.

Making your Classified Ad work is as easy as...

Include The Price...

Advertising price in an ad promises greater response. Research shows that 48% of the people will not respond to an ad unless the price is advertised. That's almost half of your prospective buyers eliminated. If your price is negotiable say so in your ad.

Don't Use Abbreviations...

Another way to kill results or turn off prospective buyers is to use abbreviations. WSW, PS, CBS, PB, AC, AT, WW may be clear to you, but maybe not to your buyers and most will not take the time to figure them out. One survey showed that 42% of readers didn't know what "WSW" tire meant.

Give Enough Information...

People today want all the information they can get before they buy. People want to know all the benefits of what they purchase. Not listing all you can in your ad will cause it to run longer with fewer results. Use brand names for extra pulling power.

Stay Near Your Phone...

If you're home all the time, including just a phone number in your ad is enough. If you work or can't be home, specify what hours you can be reached. Some people will never call back if they can't reach you the first time.

We have six San Mateo County newspapers to deliver your message and three conveniently located San Mateo County offices to serve you.

Mrs. Lawrence saved $966 shopping at Lucky. Shop Lucky and see how you can save!

Lucky Stores will be open 10 am to 7 pm on Washington's Birthday

While she was shopping at Lucky, we invited Mrs. L. Lawrence to make a shopper's comparison test for us, and she agreed. Using her very own shopping list of items she personally selected, she purchased groceries at Lucky which totalled $100.96. Using her same shopping list, she then purchased the same or comparable items at another nearby supermarket. This time, the same or comparable items cost her $110.62. Mrs. Lawrence spent $9.66 less at Lucky! Obviously, the amount of savings varies, depending on each individual shopping list . . . but the important thing is that Lucky is committed to low everyday discount prices . . . not just a few prizes!

Mrs. Lawrence's shopping comparison test was notarized by a licensed Notary Public on January 17, 1978.

Award to Millbrae Police Chief

By TERRY DAVENPORT

Millbrae Police Chief Larry Pickett was awarded $49,500 on Nov. 21 by the state Workers' Compensation Appeals Board for on-the-job injuries suffered during his 30 years with the Millbrae Police Dept., it was learned Friday.

Pickett, 63, described his illness Friday as hypertension and high blood pressure. He said he first became aware of his health problem four years ago, but did not file a disability claim until last March.

Aware of the risk that the city could incur by keeping Pickett at work, the Millbrae City Council has decided to grant him a temporary leave of absence, with full pay, effective Monday.

The lump sum of $45,000 was paid to Pickett in late December after Judge Albert E. Gately of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board determined from two medical reports that Pickett had a valid claim. The chief's lawyer received $4,500.

Pickett was to be examined by a third doctor chosen by the city, Monday. However, City Administrator Lee Horner said he does not expect to receive the doctor's report until early March.

Voters will elect three City Council members March 7. Horner said council members will base much of their decision on Pickett's future on the third medical report.

Until the council decides Pickett's status, he will remain off the job and will continue to receive his base salary of $29,856 per year, plus a longevity bonus and fringe benefits that amount to about $12,000 annually.

The city will pay all his medical costs.

Lt. Frank Paglia was appointed acting chief of police Friday but Pickett stressed that he will retain top authority in the department while he is on the temporary leave.

Horner said the City Council requested a third medical examination because there were slight differences in the two doctors' reports forwarded to the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.

Both reports are on file in the San Francisco office of the Appeals Board.

The first report was written by Dr. Fredric Minz of San Francisco after he examined Pickett April 25, 1977. He concluded that Pickett was suffering from "hypertensive and arteriosclerotic heart disease."

Minz wrote that Pickett "noted during the past five years he had been subjected to especially marked emotional pressure which he related to having to satisfy the politicians, the Pickett's claim was handled when Millbrae still carried insurance with the State Compensation Insurance Fund. On July 1, 1977 the city became self-insured.

Horner explained that the city changed its insurance because council members felt their insurance premiums were too high. Millbrae has had few disability claims in the past.

Now that Millbrae is self-insured the city must pay future workers' compensation awards deemed valid.

Disability Leave For Police Chief

By TERRY DAVENPORT

Millbrae Police Chief Larry Pickett was to be placed on a temporary disability leave of absence, with full pay, effective Monday.

Pickett, who has served as chief 29 years, said he is suffering from hypertension and is required to take constant medication.

City Administrator Lee Horner disclosed that the City Council authorized the temporary leave after learning about Pickett's health problem a month ago.

They based their decision to grant a leave following medical examinations by two doctors, one chosen by Pickett and one by the city. Both doctors found Pickett ailing from a condition that could prove dangerous if he continues working, but there was a slight variance in their reports.

Horner said the city will select a third doctor to examine Pickett. He expects that doctor's report in early March.

Until the results of the third examination are known, Pickett will be off the job, but will continue to receive his base salary of $29,856 per year, plus a longevity bonus and fringe benefits that amount to about $12,000 annually.

The city will pay for all medical costs associated with his ailment.

Horner explained that the City Council is com-

Court Allows High-Rise Election Results to Stand

By BILL HURSCHMANN
A Superior Court judge refused Wednesday to throw out the results of the San Bruno high-rise amendment election, which was defeated by the voters last November.

Judge Robert D. Miller also vindicated San Bruno City Clerk Terri Rasmussen, whom attorney James Himmel, representing Our Union for Residential Survival (OURS), had charged with failing to inform the voters fully of the ramifications of Proposition A, the high-rise ordinance amendment.

Amendments to the city's high-rise ordinance were rejected 2,244-2,451. The measure, if approved, would have amended an existing city ordinance which requires voter approval of most high-rise developments in the city more than three stories or 50 feet tall.

The amendments would have allowed buildings up to six stories in four major areas — Bayhill, Lincoln Properties, Navy land and Tanforan.

Himmel had contended before Judge Miller in early January that, because of the complicated nature of the ballot measure, public hearings should have been held at the Planning Commission and City Council levels, that a "Town Hall" meeting should have been required and that both pro and con documents should have been made easily available to the public.

"This case...is in fact, an election contest because the election has been held and petitioners (Himmel) are challenging the result," Judge Miller said in his decision.

Current city law, which was adopted as a result of the OURS initiative drive several years ago, requires voter approval of buildings greater than three stories or 50 feet tall, multi-storyed parking structures or buildings, and buildings which encroach upon, modify, widen or realign the city's scenic corridors.

"However, the alleged errors go only to preliminary procedures prior to the election and not the fairness of the result. There are no allegations the electorate has been deprived of an opportunity to fairly express its will."

"Judicial intervention is not proper without showing the results of the election was not a true expression of those who voted," the judge added.

Miller also said that in his opinion the California State Constitution places the responsibility and power for holding initiative and referendum elections exclusively in the hands of the state legislature, and that the legislature has preempted any local procedures for holding such elections.

The judge cited several previous cases to support his decision.

Specifically, Brien suggested closing Pedro Valley and Vallemar schools in 1978, closing Crespi, Portola and Westview schools in 1979, or as soon as possible, and attempting to lease unused schools and sell unused sites.

In addition, Brien said he believes trustees should give more thought to the configuration of seventh- and eighth-grade schools.

Brien also recommended designating Sanchez and Pacific Heights schools as "structured schools" in

Salada Board Mulls Closing Five Schools

By TERRY DAVENPORT

Superintendent James Brien recommended Thursday that trustees of the Laguna Salada Union School District close five of the district's 15 schools to cope with declining enrollment.

Fred Jones, head of the structured school committee, said the group would prefer having only one school designated for the program rather than half-filling two schools.

Specifically, Brien proposed in his recommendations to the board:

- Closing Pedro Valley School in 1978 and moving pupils to Linda Mar and Cabrillo schools, with Linda Mar Boulevard as the boundary. He suggested working with the state for 1978. Trustees approved the start of the back-to-basics academic program Thursday, but later learned during the meeting that proponents of the concept don't want regular students at the same school with structured school pupils.

Fred Jones, head of the structured school committee, said the group would prefer having only one school designated for the program rather than half-filling two schools.

Specifically, Brien proposed in his recommendations to the board:

- Closing Pedro Valley School in 1979 or as soon as possible, after learning what impact structured school enrollment has on Crespi for 1978-79.

- Closing Portola School in 1979 or as soon as possi-
